

DLA Distribution Bahrain

Cmdr. Charles M. Tellis

Supply Corps, United States Navy

Commander

United States Navy Supply Corps Cmdr. Charles M. Tellis earned a Bachelor of Science in Sports Science from the University of West Florida and received his commission in 1999 through Officer Candidate School in Pensacola, Florida. He received his master's degree in Management from Troy University, a master's degree in National Security and Strategic Studies, and is a graduate of the Maritime Advanced Warfighting School at Naval War College Newport, Rhode Island.

His sea duty assignments include USS Cushing (DD 985) as disbursing and assistant supply officer; and USS McFual (DDG 74) as supply officer.

His shore duty assignments include supply department head at Fleet Training Center Norfolk, site director at Center for Service Support Training Element Norfolk, wing supply officer at Commander, Helicopter Sea Combat Wing Atlantic, acquisition logistician at Commander, Naval Sea Systems Command, aviation readiness and spares program analyst on the Chief of Naval Operations staff, Programming Division (OPNAV N80), and most recently served as the operational lead logistic planner at U.S. Fleet Forces Command

Tellis volunteered for an individual augmentation assignment to Djibouti, Africa, and served as Camp Lemmonier base supply officer.

His personal decorations include Meritorious Service Medal (first award), the Navy Commendation Medal (fifth award), and Navy Achievement Medal (second award), along with various other personal, unit and service awards. He is also a qualified as a Surface Warfare Supply Corps officer, Naval Aviation supply officer, and a member of the Defense Acquisition Professional Community.

