The Honorable J. Dennis Hastert
Speaker of the House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Mr. Speaker:

This letter transmits the annual report on operations of the National Defense Stockpile (NDS) in accordance with section 11(a) of the Strategic and Critical Materials Stock Piling Act as amended (50 U.S.C. section 98h-2). The report details NDS operations during Fiscal Year (FY) 2005 and provides information with regard to the acquisition, upgrade, and disposition of NDS materials, as well as the financial status of the NDS Transaction Fund for FY 05. During FY 05, the Defense Logistics Agency disposed of $432 million of excess Stockpile materials. The value of the remaining NDS inventory is $1.59 billion. There were no NDS strategic and critical materials acquisitions in FY 05. The Defense Logistics Agency performs operations and management functions for NDS.

A copy of this letter and the report is being sent to the President of the Senate and appropriate Congressional committees.

Sincerely,

Kenneth J. Krieg

I. THE STRATEGIC AND CRITICAL MATERIALS STOCKPILING PROGRAM

OVERVIEW

The Strategic and Critical Materials Stock Piling Act (50 U.S.C. section 98 et seq.) mandates that a stockpile of strategic and critical materials (the Stockpile) be maintained to decrease and preclude, where possible, dependence upon foreign sources of supply in times of national emergency. (Appendix A of this report includes the Stock Piling Act.) Authority for management of the operational aspects of the National Defense Stockpile has been delegated to the Defense Logistics Agency, Defense National Stockpile Center (DNSC). Policy oversight remains with the Under Secretary of Defense (Acquisition, Technology, and Logistics).

Beginning with the early 1990s, the Department of Defense determined that over 99% of the inventory was excess to the Department's needs and Congress authorized its disposal. From 1995 through 2005, DNSC had $5.1 billion in sales, over $3.7 billion of which was transferred to various military programs or the General Fund of the Treasury.

Reductions in the number and quantity of stockpiled materials have led to a corresponding reduction in the DNSC infrastructure. DNSC has reduced the number of its operating depots, closed out storage sites, and reduced its workforce. Under the current plan, by the end of fiscal year 2007, DNSC will have three operating, consolidated storage locations and a total workforce of 65 employees (including DNSC and matrixed supporting employees).

Over the past year, as DNSC was drawing down its inventory and its footprint, questions have arisen as to the future requirement for a defense stockpile. The House Armed Services Committee, as part of their review of national security in their Committee Defense Review, has proposed that Department of Defense review its current stockpile disposal policy and determine whether the National Defense Stockpile should be reconfigured in light of current world market conditions to assure future availability of materials for defense needs. DNSC will be undertaking that review during fiscal year 2006.

STATUS OF THE STOCKPILE INVENTORY

The total National Defense Stockpile (NDS) inventory was valued at $1.59 billion on September 30, 2005. Chart 1 and Table 5 in Appendix D provide detailed information on the composition of the NDS inventory as of September 30, 2005. The value of the stockpile represents a “price snapshot” as of September 30, 2005.

ANNUAL MATERIALS PLAN

The Annual Materials Plan (AMP) lists the maximum quantity of each commodity that may be sold or bought by the Department of Defense (DoD) in a given fiscal year. Before any materials may be bought or sold, the Congress must enact specific enabling legislation. After receiving congressional authority, DoD develops the AMP, which is submitted to the Congress by February 15th of each year. Prior to submission, the AMP is coordinated with the Market Impact Committee, an interagency committee that advises DoD on the projected domestic and foreign economic effects of the proposed Stockpile transactions. The AMP is effective on the first day of the fiscal year. If DoD proposes significant changes to the AMP during the fiscal year, a revised AMP is submitted to the Congress. The revisions become effective 45 calendar days after their submission. The revised Fiscal Year 2005 AMP is shown in Table 1 on page 5, and the Proposed Fiscal Year 2006 AMP is shown in Table 2 on page 7.

ACQUISITIONS AND UPGRADES

There have been no commodity acquisitions or upgrades since fiscal year 1997.

SALES OF EXCESS INVENTORY

The Stockpile sold $432.0 million of excess materials during Fiscal Year 2005. Sales for Fiscal Years 1995 through 2005, totalling $5.1 billion, are shown in Chart 2.

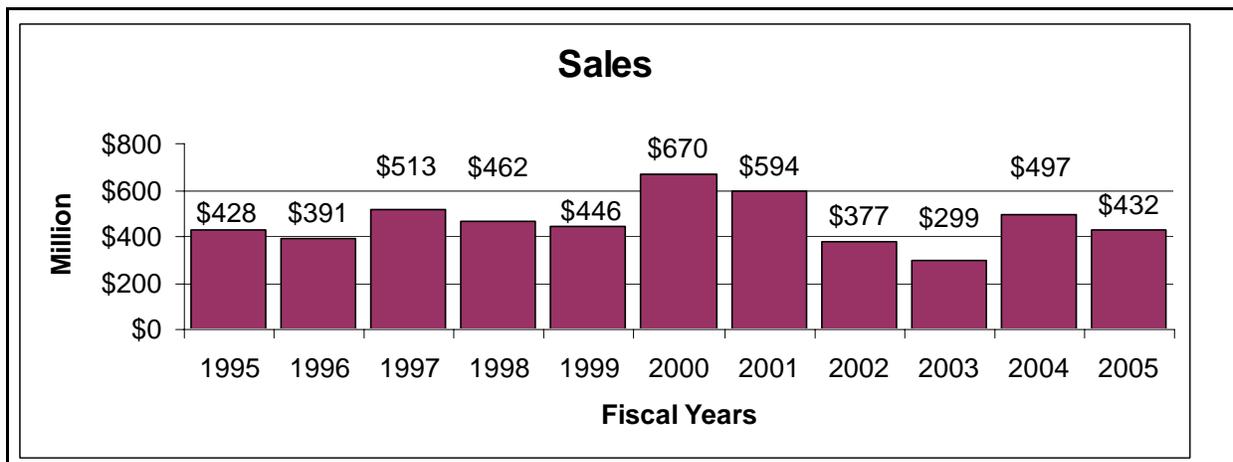

Chart 2 Prior Year Sales

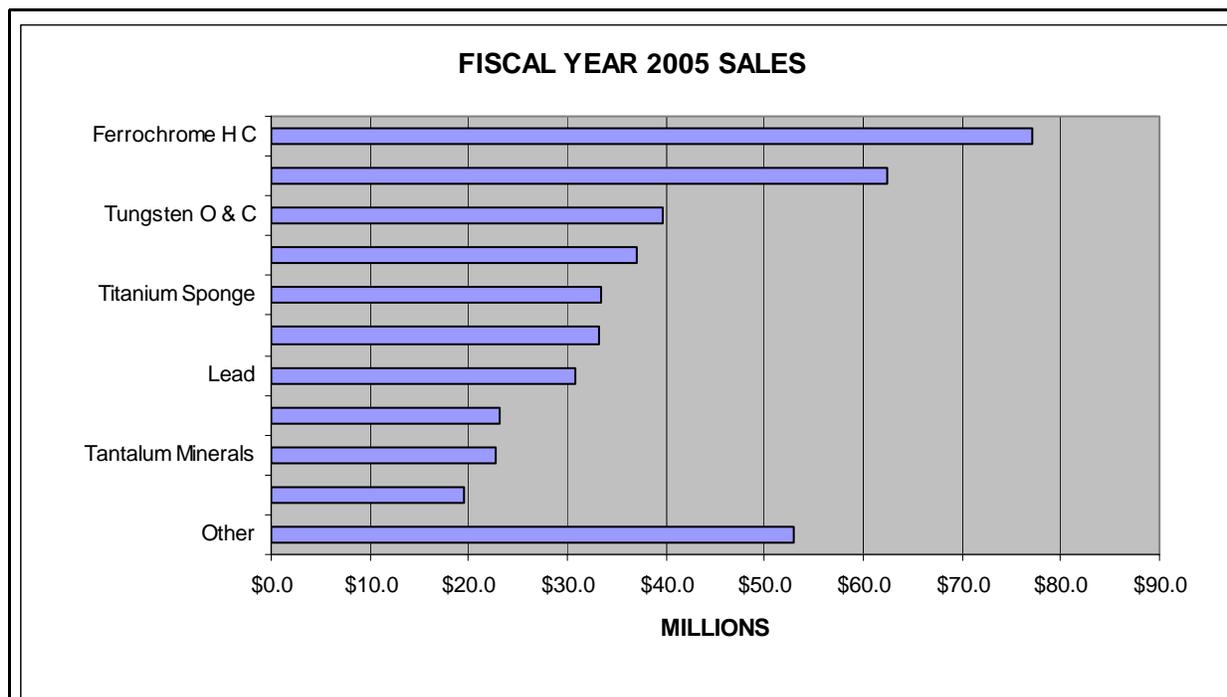

Chart 3 Fiscal Year 2005 Sales

Inventory quantities of six materials – Jewel Bearings, Manganese Dioxide Natural Grade, Manganese Dioxide Synthetic Grade, Palladium, Tantalum Metal Ingot, Thorium Nitrate– were depleted during this reporting period.

ENVIRONMENTAL ACTIVITIES

During Fiscal Year 2005, DNSC managed the following environmental projects:

- Mercury Management - The goal is to relocate all stockpile mercury to a long-term storage site by fiscal year 2008. The remaining project phases are site selection, storage facility upgrade, and transportation to a consolidation location. During 2005, the portion of the stockpile stored at the Department of Energy Y-12 National Security Complex in Tennessee was relocated to DNSC's Warren, Ohio depot for over packing. An additional warehouse section at the Warren Depot was upgraded to make room for the relocated material. All relocated material was safely overpacked in a manner consistent with the remainder of the DNSC mercury inventory. DNSC expects to make a final decision on the mercury consolidation site during Fiscal Year 2006.

- Thorium Nitrate (ThN) - The Thorium Nitrate Disposal Project was completed in August 2005 with the safe transfer of 7 million pounds of thorium nitrate to the Department of Energy's Nevada Test Site. 266 truckloads of the radioactive material were transported from DNSC's Hammond, IN and Curtis Bay, MD depots, and the material is now buried under more than 20 feet of soil. The buried inventory is well documented making it possible to retrieve the stockpile should there be a future need for the material. More than 32,000 "no lost time" work hours were expended on the project, which included six years of research and 12 months of shipment activity.

III. FINANCIAL STATUS OF THE DEFENSE NATIONAL STOCKPILE TRANSACTION FUND

OVERVIEW

The Fiscal Year 2005 Transaction Fund financial status (Table 4) portrays the cash and obligations activity beginning October 1, 2003 through September 30, 2005. All proceeds from the sale of excess materials (reimbursements collected) are posted in the Transaction Fund. The Table also shows the existing obligations against the Transaction Fund, as well as the remaining unobligated, available cash balance.

TABLE 4: Financial Status of The Defense National Stockpile Transaction Fund – October 1, 2003 to September 30, 2005 (Millions of Dollars)

Transaction	FY 04	FY 05
Beginning Treasury Cash Balance	762.1	1,104.5
Reimbursements Collected	493.0	440.1
Available for Obligation	1,255.1	1,544.6
Transfers
Transfers to FMS/Treasury/HHS/WWII	(78.7)	(323.2)
DNSC Operations
Obligated in FY (CY & Prior Year Adjustments)	(71.9)	(51.4)
Available Cash Balance	1,104.5	1,170.0

Focusing on the Fiscal Year 2005 column, there were $440.1 million collected in reimbursements, including $310.0 million from Fiscal Year 2005 sales. The remaining reimbursements collected are from prior year sales. Transfers to Con-gressionally mandated programs totaled $323.2 million. In addition, $51.4 million were obligated against both the current year and prior years' authority to support DNSC operations. This leaves an available cash balance of $1,170.0 million. All data shown in Table 4 have been taken from the official accounting records as reported to the United States Treasury by the Defense Finance and Accounting Service.

APPENDIX A: STRATEGIC AND CRITICAL MATERIALS STOCK PILING ACT (50 U.S.C. 98 et seq.)

SEC. 1. This Act may be cited as the “Strategic and Critical Materials Stock Piling Act.”

Findings And Purpose

SEC. 2. (a) The Congress finds that the natural resources of the United States in certain strategic and critical materials are deficient or insufficiently developed to supply the military, industrial, and essential civilian needs of the United States for national defense.

(b) It is the purpose of this Act to provide for the acquisition and retention of stocks of certain strategic and critical materials and to encourage the conservation and development of sources of such materials within the United States and thereby to decrease and to preclude, when possible, a dangerous and costly dependence by the United States upon foreign sources for supplies of such materials in times of national emergency.

(c) The purpose of the National Defense Stockpile is to serve the interest of national defense only. The National Defense Stockpile is not to be used for economic or budgetary purposes.

Materials to be Acquired: Presidential Authority and Guidelines

SEC. 3. (a) Subject to subsection (c) of this section, the President shall determine from time to time (1) which materials are strategic and critical materials for the purposes of this Act, and (2) the quality and quantity of each such material to be acquired for the purposes of this Act and the form in which each such material shall be acquired and stored. Such materials when acquired, together with the other materials described in section 4 of this Act, shall constitute and be collectively known as the National Defense Stockpile (hereinafter in this Act referred to as the “stockpile”).

(b) The President shall make the determinations required to be made under subsection (a) on the basis of the principles stated in section 2(c).

(c)(1) The quantity of any material to be stockpiled under this Act, as in effect on September 30, 1987, may be changed only as provided in this subsection or as otherwise provided by law enacted after December 4, 1987.

(2) The President shall notify Congress in writing of any change proposed to be made in the quantity of any material to be stockpiled. The President may make the change after the end of the 45-day period beginning on the date of the notification. The President shall include a full explanation and justification for the proposed change with the notification.

Materials Constituting the National Defense Stockpile

SEC. 4. (a) The stockpile consists of the following materials:

(1) Materials acquired under this Act and contained in the national stockpile on July 29, 1979.

(2) Materials acquired under this Act after July 29, 1979.

(3) Materials in the supplemental stockpile established by section 1704(b) of the Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act of 1954 (as in effect from September 21, 1959, through December 31, 1966) on July 29, 1979.

(4) provide for the rotation of any material in the stockpile when necessary to prevent deterioration or technological obsolescence of such material by replacement of such material with an equivalent quantity of substantially the same material or better material;

(5) subject to the notification required by subsection (d)(2) of this section, provide for the timely disposal of materials in the stockpile that (A) are excess to stockpile requirements, and (B) may cause a loss to the Government if allowed to deteriorate; and

(6) subject to the provisions of section 5(b), dispose of materials in the stockpile the disposal of which is specifically authorized by law.

(b) Except as provided in subsections (c) and (d), acquisition of strategic and critical materials under this Act shall be made in accordance with established Federal procurement practices, and, except as provided in subsections (c) and (d) and in section 7(a), disposal of strategic and critical materials from the stockpile shall be made in accordance with the next sentence. To the maximum extent feasible—

(1) competitive procedures shall be used in the acquisition and disposal of such materials; and

(2) efforts shall be made in the acquisition and disposal of such materials to avoid undue disruption of the usual markets of producers, processors, and consumers of such materials and to protect the United States against avoidable loss.

(c)(1) The President shall encourage the use of barter in the acquisition under subsection (a)(1) of this section of strategic and critical materials for, and the disposal under subsection (a)(5) or (a)(6) of this section of materials from, the stockpile when acquisition or disposal by barter is authorized by law and is practical and in the best interest of the United States.

(2) Materials in the stockpile (the disposition of which is authorized by paragraph (3) to finance the upgrading, refining, or processing of a material in the stockpile, or is otherwise authorized by law) shall be available for transfer at fair market value as payment for expenses (including transportation and other incidental expenses) of acquisition of materials, or of upgrading, refining, processing, or rotating materials, under this Act.

(3) Notwithstanding section 3(c) of this Act or any other provision of law, whenever the President provides under subsection (a)(3) of this section for the upgrading, refining, or processing of a material in the stockpile to convert that material into a form more suitable for storage, subsequent disposition, and immediate use in a national emergency, the President may barter a portion of the same material (or any other material in the stockpile that is authorized for disposal) to finance that upgrading, refining, or processing.

(4) To the extent otherwise authorized by law, property owned by the United States may be bartered for materials needed for the stockpile.

(d)(1) The President may waive the applicability of any provision of the first sentence of subsection (b) to any acquisition of material for, or disposal of material from, the stockpile. obligation of the United States is incurred in connection with such acquisition or disposal and shall include in such notification the reasons for not complying with any provision of such subsection.

(2) Materials in the stockpile may be disposed of under subsection (a)(5) of this section only if such congressional committees are notified in writing of the proposed disposal at least 45 days before any obligation of the United States is incurred in connection with such disposal.

(B) devise new methods for the treatment and utilization of lower grade reserves of such ores and mineral substances; and

(C) develop substitutes for such essential ores and mineral products.

(3) Investigations under paragraph (1) may be carried out on public lands and, with the consent of the owner, on privately owned lands for the purpose of exploring and determining the extent and quality of deposits of such minerals, the most suitable methods of mining and beneficiating such minerals, and the cost at which the minerals or metals may be produced.

(b) The President shall make scientific, technologic, and economic investigations of the feasibility of developing domestic sources of supplies of any agricultural material or for using agricultural commodities for the manufacture of any material determined pursuant to section 3(a) of this Act to be a strategic and critical material or substitutes therefore.

APPENDIX D: NATIONAL DEFENSE STOCKPILE INVENTORY

STOCKPILE INVENTORY

The Stockpile inventory quantities shown in Table 5 of this appendix include both stockpile and non-stockpile grade materials. Although non-stockpile grade materials do not meet current purchase specifications for Stockpile materials, they may be credited towards the goals until they can be sold or upgraded.

Stockpile inventory quantities shown in Table 5 do not include quantities of materials that have been sold but have not yet been shipped from Stockpile depots. Table 6 lists quantities of materials that have been sold but not shipped as of the end of the fiscal year. Inventory quantities include material that is on consignment and on loan as indicated below. Inventory quantities of six materials - Jewel Bearings, Manganese Dioxide Natural Grade, Manganese Dioxide Synthetic Grade, Palladium, Tantalum Metal Ingot, Thorium Nitrate - were depleted during this reporting period.

Stockpile materials on consignment are as follows:

Platinum on loan to Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory - 8,380 troy ounces

Iridium on loan to Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory - 1,300 troy ounces.

Iridium on loan to U.S. Army Space and Missile Defense Command - 1,200.264 troy ounces.

Inventory values are based on September 30, 2005 prices at which comparable materials are being traded. In the absence of current trading data, market values are estimated. The market values are not necessarily the amount that would be realized if the materials were sold.

STOCKPILE GOALS

The Stockpile goals shown in Table 5 have been reduced for those materials for which disposal was authorized in the National Defense Authorization Acts for Fiscal Years 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001, and 2002. For those materials or family groups the goals are derived by subtracting new legislative disposal authority from the lower of either the goal in effect or the inventory quantity on the date the new disposal was authorized by the Congress.

FAMILY GROUPINGS OF MATERIALS

When the Stockpile contains more than one form of a primary material, the inventory group may include the different forms of the material.

SALES

Materials are offered for sale when they are excess to the goal, authorized for sale by the Congress, and are listed on the current fiscal year's Annual Materials Plan. To the extent possible, sales are conducted competitively. DNSC carefully monitors prices and other market conditions to ensure that sales do not unduly disrupt the market and that there is a fair return to the taxpayer. Individuals and companies on the mailing list for a material being sold automatically receive the necessary documents in order to submit an offer.

TYPES OF SALES

Sealed Bid: An Invitation-for-Bids (IFB) containing all the terms and conditions of the sale is sent to all potential bidders. Bids are opened publicly and evaluated without discussions with bidders. Awards are made only to the responsive, responsible bidders whose bids conform to the IFB and are deemed advantageous to the Government. Award is based on price alone.

Negotiated: The solicitation does not predetermine all the terms and conditions of the final contract. Price and other terms are negotiable. Buyers make an initial offer and an award may be made without further discussions or the Government may negotiate terms. Where discussions have taken place, each offeror is asked to submit a "best and final offer," at which point discussions end. Offers are then evaluated and awards are made to responsible offerors whose offers are considered most advantageous to the Government.

Basic Ordering Agreement (BOA): DNSC expanded the use of the Basic Ordering Agreement sales method in Fiscal Year 2005 by offering another commodity for sale using this format. A total of eight commodity groups were offered for sale using the BOA method: platinum group metals, cobalt, ferrochromium, iodine, lead, tantalum, tin, and zinc. The BOA is a written instrument of understanding that contains a description of the material offered for sale and the terms and conditions negotiated between the Contracting Officer and the Contractor. The terms and conditions will apply to all resulting contracts awarded under the BOA. Under the BOA process, DNSC offers firms an opportunity to quote on materials periodically, in response to market and customer needs. Quoters must be pre-qualified by submitting a completed BOA package prior to quoting. All pre-qualified quoters are invited to quote. Award is based on prices offered, as may be adjusted by special terms negotiated previously. Quotes may be submitted by facsimile message or online through the DNSC website, <https://www.dnsc.dla.mil>.

Strategic Supply Alliance (SSA): In Fiscal Year 2005, DNSC also used the Strategic Supply Alliance sales method. DNSC offered tungsten ores and concentrates and vegetable tannin extracts under an SSA. While the format of the SSA is similar to that of the BOA, under the SSA, DNSC is able to offer material seven days a week, twenty-four hours a day. Material offered for sale is posted on DNSC's website and quotes are only accepted electronically from quoters that have been pre-qualified by submitting a completed SSA package prior to quoting. All pre-qualified quoters are invited to quote. As with the BOA offerings, award is based on prices offered, as may be adjusted by special terms negotiated previously.

SUBMISSION OF SHIPPING INSTRUCTIONS ONLINE

Contractors may submit shipping instructions under their sales contracts via the Internet through access to the Defense Working Capital Fund Accounting System (DWAS). DNSC uses DWAS to document and manage sales and shipping instruction information for awarded sales contracts.

EMAIL NOTIFICATIONS OF SOLICITATION DOCUMENTS

Beginning in Fiscal Year 2006, DNSC plans to change from sending solicitation documents out by mail to sending email notices when documents are posted to the DNSC website. Individuals and companies will be able to sign up for email notifications at <https://www.dnsc.dla.mil>.

METHODS OF PAYMENT

Payment for stockpile materials is due prior to delivery unless other options are specified in negotiated or BOA contracts. Beginning October 2005, contractors have been required to send payment for material by wire transfer only.

FINANCIAL EXPOSURE LIMIT

In Fiscal Year 2005, DNSC continued the practice of determining a financial exposure limit for each contractor seeking to participate in the sale of stockpile materials. Prior to awarding its sales contracts, DNSC establishes a financial exposure limit (the maximum level of business DNSC will allow) for a contractor based on financial data provided by the firm. If a contractor reaches its financial exposure limit, subsequent sales may cease until the contractor either performs satisfactorily its existing contracts or provides additional information which justifies DNSC in increasing the exposure limit.

ACQUISITIONS (PURCHASES)

To the extent possible, DNSC purchases supplies and services competitively. While there are no plans to purchase new stockpile materials in Fiscal Year 2006, DNSC will contract for the purchase of repair and alteration (construction), maintenance, other non-personal services, and supplies at the various Stockpile storage locations across the United States. Solicitation documents contain specific information about planned projects and notices of these solicitations are published on the DNSC website in addition to FedBizOpps. Firms on the mailing lists for the supplies and services being acquired will automatically receive solicitations when they are issued. Those not on the mailing list may request the solicitations from DNSC. Copies of solicitations are also posted on the DNSC website, <https://www.dnsc.dla.mil>. A review of program information may be found on the DNSC website or questions may be directed to agricola@dla.mil.

TYPES OF PROCUREMENTS

Sealed Bid: This is the method usually employed when the Government's requirements can be precisely described, when pre-award discussions are not necessary, when more than one bid is expected, and when award will be based on price and price-related factors. DNSC will issue an Invitation-for-Bids (IFB) describing the supplies or services being purchased and the specific procedures for submitting a bid. Bids are opened publicly and evaluated without discussions with bidders. Contracts are awarded to the responsible bidders whose bids conform to the terms of the IFB and are deemed advantageous to the Government.

Negotiated: Negotiated procurements involve the submission of initial proposals to the Government in response to a Request for Proposals (or Request for Quotations for a smaller dollar value procurement) for the particular supply or service. This method permits discussions by the parties and allows the offeror/quoter to revise the initial proposal or quotation prior to the award of the contract. Negotiations can include discussions on price, delivery schedule, technical requirements, type of contract, or other terms of the proposal. Price is not necessarily the most important factor and awards may be made on other than price and price-related factors; for example, a superior technical approach.

METHODS OF PAYMENT

The Contractor is paid by Government electronic funds transfer or Government purchase card for the supplies or services received and accepted by DNSC.
