

Hall of Fame Inductees

READ ADMIRAL JAMES E. MILLER SC, U.S. NAVY (RET)

Is inducted into the Defense Personnel Support Center Hall of Fame this sixteenth day of June 1995 for his extraordinary leadership and support as Commander of DPSC's Subsistence Directorate from 1981 to 1983. Admiral Miller directed unprecedented improvements with all facets of the Subsistence mission. Demonstrating the epitome of total quality management and extraordinary leadership techniques, he was instrumental in establishing overseas storage facilities and customer service resources. He also developed the use of the growing regions in Europe. Through his astute management, he directed resolution of long-standing inventory problems, and created a highly efficient streamlined subsistence-support organization for deployed U.S. military forces.
