

Hall of Fame Inductees

MAX FEINBERG

Is inducted into the Defense Personnel Support Center Hall of Fame this sixteenth day of June 1995 for his extraordinary leadership and support as Deputy Director of the Medical Materiel Directorate - and his continuous outstanding mission support throughout his tenure at DPSC - from 1947 to 1980. Mr. Feinberg was instrumental in building a quality assurance program which significantly improved pharmaceutical quality. His distinguished medical career included: establishing coordinated product specifications; creating standards for tablets, capsules and injections; promoting vigorous laboratory product inspection and testing; creating industry standards for manufacturing pharmaceuticals; and creating a training and certification program for pharmaceutical and medical inspectors. His actions were responsible in regaining the trust of DPSC's customers in the quality of medical products.
