

Hall of Fame Inductees

ROBERT P. APELIAN

Is posthumously inducted into the Defense Personnel Support Center Hall of Fame this third day of June 1997 for his extraordinary leadership and support as Associate Counsel - and for his continuous outstanding mission support throughout his tenure at DPSC – from 1972 to 1988. Mr. Apelian, an exceptional advocate, was personally responsible for an unprecedented number of favorable decisions in bid protest cases before the General Accounting Office. Many decisions were instrumental in furthering the Agency’s mission by upholding contracts that were vital in fulfilling the critical requirement of DPSC’s customers. In addition, many of his other cases stand as valuable precedent in Government Contract law. Mr. Apelian also advised and counseled many new attorneys and procurement personnel throughout the Center. His dedication and devotion laid a solid foundation for his protégés becoming an integral part of DPSC’s ongoing success story.
