

APPENDIX A-27

COMMODITY CODES FOR DATA PROCESSING

1. Number of characters: Variable.
2. Type of code: Alpha.
3. Explanation: Commodity Codes are used by data processes to ascertain that the input document is sent to the correct commodity. Quite often the RIC field is used to check the commodity. In some instances though, the code is contained in another field or as an entity of its own. Chapter 30 discusses the Commodity Code Routines and the location.
4. The following are the routines and Commodity Codes used to identify the correct commodity:

RTN	CODES
A	Routing Identifier Code (RIC). At DSCC and DSCR, a further check for the collocated DPDO will be as follows: <table><thead><tr><th>DSC</th><th>RIC</th></tr></thead><tbody><tr><td>DSCC</td><td>SVX or STO SVY</td></tr><tr><td>DSCR</td><td>ST4</td></tr></tbody></table>	DSC	RIC	DSCC	SVX or STO SVY	DSCR	ST4
DSC	RIC
DSCC	SVX or STO SVY
DSCR	ST4
B	Activity Address Code (AAC).
M	For DSCR only. Checks for RIC SR_.

The following are used at DSCP only:

C	Commodity Manager Code (CMC), i.e., M, S or T.
D	Catalog Activity Code (CAC) <table><thead><tr><th>CAC</th><th>COMMODITY</th></tr></thead><tbody><tr><td>KX</td><td>Medical</td></tr><tr><td>CY</td><td>C&T</td></tr><tr><td>CZ</td><td>Subsistence</td></tr></tbody></table>	CAC	COMMODITY	KX	Medical	CY	C&T	CZ	Subsistence
CAC	COMMODITY
KX	Medical
CY	C&T
CZ	Subsistence
