GENERAL ORDER
NO. 32-98

December 22, 1998

I. Authority: Decision by the Director, DLA on November 10, 1998.

II. References:

- A. CI Memorandum dated November 17, 1998, subject: DLA System Design Center (DSDC) Implementation Team.
- B. HQ DLA General Order No. 48-94 dated September 19, 1994.
- C. HQ DLA General Order No. 43-94 dated August 2, 1994.

III. Pursuant to cited authority and effective December 10, 1998, the DLA Systems Design Center (DSDC) is disestablished without ceremony.

IV. Over the next nine to twelve months, DSDC's missions, functions, and related resources will be absorbed in place into the DLA organizations it currently services: Primarily the Defense Contract Management Command (DCMC), the Defense Logistics Support Command (DLSC), and the DLA Chief Information Office (CI). Oversight of the Agency's information systems design and maintenance will continue to be the responsibility of the DLA Chief Information Officer.

V. Effective December 10, 1998, the DSDC Transition Management Office (TMO) is established to oversee the realignments and transfer of DSDC's functions to DLSC, DCMC and CI. The TMO is under the direction of the former DSDC Commander as Officer-in-Charge and is comprised of the DSDC command and administrative structure, augmented as needed with DLSC, DCMC and CI representatives.

VI. The current chain of command and administrative structure will continue to exist through the transition period. Operational control of DSDC product management will shift to DCMC, DLSC and CI simultaneously with disestablishment.

VII. The transition will be completed NLT September 30, 1999. Necessary changes to mission and supporting systems will be effected NLT November 30, 1999.

VIII. Administrative support to former DSDC organizational elements continues under existing arrangements until modified to reflect organizational changes.
