Prohibited Items

- Demilitarization (DEMIL) Code “E” military camouflaged clothing.
- Kevlar helmets and body armor (FSC 8470, DEMIL Code “D”).
- Grenade launchers, drones, bayonets, .50 caliber and above, and other property identified as prohibited.
- Batch lots (Unit of Issue: “LT”). Consist of multiple NSNs and there is no way of accounting or tracking the actual property quantity that was received in the “LOT”.
- Refer to the MOA and Addendum.

- Allocation limits are based on the full manning number for the agency as determined by the civil governing body. In other words, the application for participation should list the number of officers that would be represented at full strength, NOT current vacancies or the fluctuation of officers as denoted at the time the application is completed.
- Allocation limits may determine whether LESO approves a requisition.
- Allocation limits are stated within the Memorandum of Agreement.

Allocation Limits

- Allocation of like or assigned property is represented in FEPMIS Property Allocation Report and is what the LESO uses to make determinations for approval, in conjunction with the LEA justification comments provided in RTD.
- Property is generally issued at the rate of one per officer.
- Consumable items such as first aid supplies, disposable dishes and cutlery, toilet paper, or otherwise deemed appropriate by the strength of the justification and the determination made by the LESO.

Special Program Hold

- January 2023 a 14-day special program hold was implemented on all RTD requisitions from non-DoD customers.
- This allows the military services the full 14-day DoD screening period to screen for property.
- Once LESO staff approves a requisition for property in the RTD web, the requisition is placed on hold for up to 14-days.
- Requests for property submitted by the military services will be prioritized ahead of any special program request.
