

DLA Distribution Pearl Harbor

Mr. Darren P. Harmon Jr.

Deputy Commander

Mr. Darren P. Harmon, Jr., is currently the Deputy Commander at Defense Logistics Agency Distribution Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. Previously he had served as the Distribution Facilities Manager, Central Distribution Center (CDC), Defense Commissary Agency (DeCA) located at Germersheim, Germany.

Harmon has more than 20 years of leveraging management skills to oversee Logistics and Operations for Distribution Centers and Law Enforcement Government Agencies. He is a facilitator of safeguarding people and property, formulating teams and workload to comply with policy and procedures, performance requirements and quality standards. Mr. Harmon has managed programs and special projects including project oversight. Mr. Harmon has a Military Record of establishing efficiency and effectiveness in security operations and supply chain management, collaborating with organizations such as DLA (Defense Logistics Agency) to deliver course instruction, mentorship, and productivity. Mr. Harmon's past assignments have also included overseeing efforts of modernization, training, and implementation of DSS to WMS and movement to a new facility. In January 2024, Mr. Harmon was selected as the seventh Distribution Facilities Manager, Central Distribution Center Germersheim (CDC-G)

Mr. Harmon's Military Service included assignments as Military Police and Special Operations. Mr. Harmon served in both EUCOM and AFRICOM.

