SUBJECT: Fiscal Year (FY) 2018 Fuel Price Change

The FY 2018 costs for refined petroleum products is expected to remain lower than projected in the President's Budget 2018. Due to the decrease in the cost of refined oil products and in order to maintain the momentum in readiness improvements that were gained as a result of the additional funds provided in the FY 2017 Department of Defense Appropriations Act, the Department will reduce the standard fuel price (SFP) to its customers for as long as possible during the FY 2018 Continuing Resolution.

Effective October 1, 2017, the FY 2018 SFP will decrease from the FY 2018 budgeted price of $104.58 to $90.30 per barrel, which is the current FY 2017 SFP. The Defense Logistics Agency (DLA) Energy Shortlist of fuel prices by type is attached and is also unchanged from the current FY 2017 shortlist. The DLA will publish a full list of fuel product prices on the DLA Energy website. The Department will closely monitor the cost of refined oil products and the financial solvency of the Defense-Wide Working Capital Fund and will make immediate adjustments in the SFP as necessary.

My staff is available to provide additional information regarding fuel price assumptions. My point of contact is Mr. Trung Au, 703-692-6272, email: trung.d.au.civ@mail.mil

John P. Roth
Deputy Comptroller
