

FedMall:

A Premier Government e-commerce site

Say good bye to lengthy online searches and wasted time trying to find the right government contracting source for the items or products you need to get the job done! Welcome to FedMall, a thoughtful, comprehensive redesign of the Department of Defense Electronic Mall (DOD EMALL), a 20-year-old e-Commerce system that has sold millions of products to the DOD as well as local, state and federal agencies. Streamlined to provide users with a state-of-the-art online shopping – and selling – experience, FedMall aims to become the federal government’s online shopping destination of choice, with the usability of a commercial site and the necessary compliances required by government.

Designed to be user friendly, intuitive, and most importantly, meet current and individual agency needs, other FedMall features include:

- Enhanced search function, allowing users to find products quickly and easily
- The ability to compare similar products sold within the system
- Improved status tracking of your products
- The ability to communicate directly with your vendors
- Guaranteed secure payment transactions.

Specializing in provisions for government agencies, FedMall rivals its competitors with:

- Exclusive access to the Department of Defense, Federal, State and local agencies who shop for and buy government and commercial off-the-shelf (COTS) finished goods and services
- Support to veteran owned businesses, small businesses, Ability One and companies that sell environmentally friendly products
- An easy-to-navigate platform, where users can hover over all displayed products for added information
- Vendors who are compliant with all federal contracting regulations
