

DLA Troop Support
2016 Hall of Fame Inductee
JOHN McANDREWS

Mr. John McAndrews is being inducted into the Defense Logistics Agency Troop Support Hall of Fame this eighth day of November 2016 for his outstanding mission support from 1975 through 2013. Mr. McAndrews' federal career spanned 37 years culminating in a senior leadership role as the Acting Director, Plans and Integration in the Clothing & Textiles Supply Chain. He demonstrated superior leadership in every position he occupied throughout his career. He was continuously called upon to share his expertise in both the customer and supplier side processes needed to effectively provide the broad range of items managed by Clothing & Textiles. His work with continuously improving the supply planning process left a lasting contribution to the execution of clothing and textiles support. His expertise directly supported more accurate development of demand forecasts and inventory levels for clothing and textiles items. Dedicated to the development of his personnel, Mr. McAndrews was recognized as an instructor, mentor and coach for countless personnel he encountered over his career. DLA Troop Support continues to benefit from the expertise and leadership of Mr. John McAndrews.
