

Hall of Fame Inductees

ANTHONY DELROSSI

Is inducted into the Defense Supply Center Philadelphia Hall of Fame this second day of June 1998 for his extraordinary leadership and support as Chief of the Facilities Maintenance Branch in the Directorate of Installation Services and for his continuous mission support throughout his tenure at DSCP from 1955 to 1993.

Mr. DelRossi was a primary behind-the-scene player in this installation's operations. Many of the major system maintenance and emergency planning programs in boiler, electrical, heating, ventilating and air conditioning that he initiated and managed are still in effect today. He also improved the working environment and quality of life for employees. Under his leadership, air conditioning systems were upgraded, the computer room was expanded, and cable was installed to pave the way for future networking advancements.
