2. Background: Nodine's Smokehouse, Inc. of Torrington, Connecticut is recalling Smoked Salmon packages because they have the potential to be contaminated with Listeria monocytogenes. The recall was initiated as a result of environmental and product sampling by the Rachael's Food Corporation. It revealed the presence of Listeria moncytogenes in certain Smoked Salmon packages. Consumption of food contaminated with Listeria monocytogenes can cause listeriosis, with high fever, severe headache, neck stiffness, and nausea as its primary symptoms. In rare cases, listeriosis is fatal; it can also cause miscarriages and stillbirths. People experiencing these problems should seek immediate medical attention. Pregnant women the very young, elderly, and persons with compromised immune systems are the most susceptible.

No illnesses have been reported to date in connection with this problem.

The Smoked Salmon was distributed nationwide in retail stores and through mail orders. Distribution has been suspended while Rachael's Food Corporation continues their investigation into the source of the problem.

3. Product Affected: The product comes in 1.5 lbs. and 8 oz. packages with lot numbers 40173 and 33173.
