2. BACKGROUND: Unilever Food Solutions is recalling a limited quantity of Lipton, Knorr, and LeGoût chicken products that contain chicken from a supplier that is being recalled, due to potential contamination with Listeria monocytogenes.

This limited voluntary recall is being conducted with the knowledge of the Food Safety and Inspection Service (FSIS) of the United States Department of Agriculture (U.S.D.A).

This is an expansion of the recall by Tip Top Poultry, which issued a recall of its poultry products that were produced between January 21, 2019 and September 24, 2019 for possible Listeria contamination.

Consumption of food contaminated with L. monocytogenes can cause listeriosis, a serious infection that primarily affects older adults, persons with weakened immune systems, and pregnant women and their newborns. Less commonly, persons outside these risk groups are affected.

Listeriosis can cause fever, muscle aches, headache, stiff neck, confusion, loss of balance and convulsions sometimes preceded by diarrhea or other gastrointestinal symptoms. An invasive infection spreads beyond the gastrointestinal tract. In pregnant women, the infection can cause miscarriages, stillbirths, premature delivery or life-threatening infection of the newborn. In addition, serious and sometimes fatal infections in older adults and persons with weakened immune systems. Listeriosis is treated with antibiotics. Persons in the higher-risk categories who experience flu-like symptoms within two months after eating contaminated food should seek medical care and tell the health care provider about eating the contaminated food.

To date, no illnesses have been reported relating to this recall. Unilever Food Solutions is recalling the products out of an abundance of caution.

The products were manufactured in the United States and Canada. The products were distributed nationwide in the U.S. and reached consumers through Unilever sales to Foodservice distributors.
